

ConMoto is a high-performing management consultancy, working with top-ranking companies in Germany and internationally. We develop and implement factory automation solutions for companies in all industries. The ConMoto team of our Strategy & Automation division needs reinforcement to open up new performance potentials in production and logistics for our customers.

We are looking for you to strengthen our team as an:

Lean Consultant with automation expertise (m/f/d)

Your tasks include:

- Design and implementation of low-cost automation solutions
- Technical description of automation processes
- Selection and implementation of automation solutions
- Design of production systems and processes according to lean principles
- Sustainable increase of effectiveness and efficiency in production and logistics

Your profile:

- Completed studies in mechanical engineering, production technology, industrial engineering or similar
- Deep experience as a consultant in above mentioned tasks especially in automation projects
- In-depth knowledge of lean principles and lean production systems
- Confident application of relevant methods such as value stream mapping and design, waste analysis, 5S, store floor management, standard work, production smoothing, etc.
- Commitment to continuous professional development
- Refined social skills in dealing with the client's management and employees on the shop floor

- Excellent communication/presentation skills at all levels
- Quick perception as well as objective and confident judgment
- High level of initiative and commitment
- Fluent German and English
- Very good knowledge of Microsoft Office applications
- Willingness to travel depending on project location

The ConMoto Team

Working at ConMoto means practicing cooperation, integrity and reliability. We want each team member to feel valued and trusted. Aspiring to be a reliable and attractive employer, we offer ongoing professional development and a clear career ladder. We support you in planning your future with periodic individual development discussions as well as targeted education and training.

Your application

Accelerate your career! Drop a line to Dr. Dieter Hofferberth, include your CV and tell us what motivates you bewerbung@conmoto.de